Presentation Overview:

Autism SA is proud to announce that Kari Dunn Buron is coming to Adelaide! Kari has 30 plus years working as a special educator in the States. She has worked closely with Universities and researchers internationally to establish autism specific programs and effective evidence based practices in the autism field. Kari is also the author of the widely used Incredible 5-Point Scale, When my Worries Get Too Big (Winner of the 2013 ‘Mum’s Choice Award) and many more practical, effective resources.

The 2017 Autism Conference will focus on how to develop Social and Emotional understanding in people on the autism spectrum and provide practical strategies to develop these skills in the home, school and other settings.

Kari is a practical and engaging presenter with a wealth of experience, knowledge and understanding, so if you are a professional or parent/carer supporting an individual on the autism spectrum book today!

Topics covered in this conference include:

- What is Social Cognition? What does it have to do with behaviours of concern?
- How to use The Incredible 5-Point Scale to teach social and emotional concepts and behaviours?
- Cognitive control and Executive Functioning and how they relate to emotional regulation and Interoception
- Relationship building skills and Relaxation: why they matter and how to teach them
- Special Guest Speaker: an individual with a ‘Lived Experience’ will provide a unique insight into the autism spectrum.
